CUBS TURN ON ATHLETICS, WIN 3-1

GUY BUSH'S FINE HURLING WINS GAME

SLASHING SINGLE BY CUYLER
IN SIXTH INNING DRIVES IN WINNING RUN

GEORGE EARNSHAW, OF THE
ATHLETICS, ALLOWED ONLY SIX HITS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The masterly pitching of Guy Bush gave the Chicago Cubs their first victory of the 1929 world series today over the Athletics by a score of 3 to 1. A slashing single to center field from the bat of Cuyler in the sixth drove in the winning run.

George Earnshaw, the big right hander, who was driven from the box in the second game at Chicago, was sent back against the Cubs by Connie Mack and allowed only six hits.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The Athletics faced the Cubs at Shibe Park today, their home grounds, and the following batteries were announced.

Chicago—Bush and Taylor; Philadelphia—Earnshaw and Cochrane.

Enthusiasm and applause came when the Athletics trotted out for their turn at fielding practice. Even then it was not the sort of cheering with which Philadelphia might have been expected to greet their championship club.

It appeared that Combs and Mack intended to start George Earnshaw instead of John Quinn, the experts' pitching selection.

Earnshaw started the second game on Wednesday and was driven from the box in the fifth inning when the Cubs put on their one brief batting rally of the series. But the right hander is a horse for work and well able to go in after one day's rest.

Connie Mack apparently was trying to outguess the Cubs once more just as he did when he sent Howard Ehmke out to win the opening game.

Practically every pitcher had been figured on by the National League champions except Earnshaw whom they drove from the box on Wednesday.

Joe McCarthy came back with Guy Bush who had done fairly well on his previous appearance.

A few minutes before game time when the band played the national anthem, there still were vacant seats in the stands, but the crowd numbered more than 40,000 not counting those who occupied neighboring roofs.

Nick Altrock and Al Schacht who went through their customary clowning, amused the crowd with their antics.

The odds just before game time were 8 to 5 on the Athletics to win this third contest. Charley Moran, veteran National League umpire, was behind the plate today. He received the batting order from the rival captains as follows:

CHICAGO—McMillan, 3b; English, ss; Hornsby, 2b; Wilson, cf; Cuyler, rf; Stephenson, lf; Grimm, 1b; Taylor, c; Guy Bush, p.

PHILADELPHIA—Bishop, 2b; Haas, cf; Cochrane, c; Simmons, lf; Fox, 1b; Miller, rf; Dykes, 3b; Boley, ss; Earnshaw, p.

The line-ups were the same as the first two games except for the pitchers. It was warm and sunny when the Athletics took the field. Compared with the cold of Chicago, this was fine weather.

The opposing captains, Grimm and Collins, discussed ground rules with the umpires. There was considerable discussion about hits to left field and Joe McCarthy came out to join the party.

All this delayed the start of the game with everything else ready.

The Athletics took the field at 1:34 P. M. Earnshaw went to the box and Moran dusted off the plate. McMillan came up to bat to lead off for the Cubs.

At the request of the announcer, the crowd stood with bared heads for one minute in memory of Miller Huggins, late manager of the New York Yankees.

The game started at 1:36 P. M.

FIRST INNING

CHARGES MADE AGAINST LORD MAYOR OF BERLIN

Berlin, Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—Sensational developments were awaited today after it became known that the municipal council had decided to ask Gustav Boess, lord mayor of Berlin, to return from the United States to face charges in connection with the allegedly fraudulent operations of the Sklarek brothers—Max, Leo and Willi—who have been accused of swindling the city of $2,500,000 on clothing credits.

It was believed that the municipal council decided to recall Boess, who is now in San Francisco, because of statements made by a bookkeeper of the Sklarek firm who testified the firm had sold the lord mayor's wife a fur coat for one-tenth of its value.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—Charges of graft preferred against his administration will have no effect on the itinerary of the party of Gustav Boess, high mayor of Berlin.

The mayor said he intended to finish his inspection tour here and then to return to New York to sail for Germany on the 24th as scheduled. The mayor merely waved aside the report that his city council had ordered his return to Berlin.

"The charges have been made by political enemies who seek to discredit me while I am not in my city," Mayor Boess said. "The charges obviously are untrue."

MIDDLE WEST WOMEN OBJECT TO LONG SKIRTS

DON'T LIKE THE STYLE SET BY
PARIS IN ABRIGATING
SHORT SKIRT

CLAIM IT MAKES WEARER OF
LONG DRESS LOOK MUCH OLDER

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—A revolt of middle western women against the new long-skirted styles from Paris was hinted today by buyers in Chicago's largest stores.

"Women don't like the styles and I don't blame them," said a buyer for one of Chicago's largest department stores. "They make their wearers look older, and who wants to take on ten years overnight these days? No woman exists—except the very young—who isn't in quest of youth. Why should she put on draperies and long skirts?"

"Economically long skirts are impossible in these bustling days," she said. "How can women run for the elevator or work efficiently with such hampering clothes? Spring will see us getting back to the old, youthful lines."

side. Cochrane flied to Stephenson. Haas flied first. Simmons up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Simmons forced Haas at second. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

SECOND INNING

CUBS—Wilson up. Strike one, called. Ball one, inside. Wilson hit to center field flag pole for a three-bagger. A fast runner would have made a homer. Cuyler up. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. Cuyler out to Boley to Fox. Wilson held third. Stephenson up. Foul, strike one. Stephenson hit to Bishop who threw Wilson out at the plate. Bishop to Cochrane, Stephenson taking first. Grimm up. Ball one, wide. Ball two, inside. Strike one, swung. Strike two called. Grimm fanned, swinging at a low one. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Wilson's triple was headed for the flag pole all the way and many ball players would have come on in standing up.

ATHLETICS—Foxy up. Ball one, outside. Foul, strike one. Strike two called. Strike three, called out on strikes. Miller up. Ball one, low. Ball two, inside. Miller flied to Cuyler. Dykes up. Ball one, outside. Dykes singled to left. Boley up. Ball one, high and wide. Strike one swung. Foul, strike two. Foul. Boley singled to right and Dykes reached third when McMillan dropped Cuyler's throw. No error was scored on the play. Boley going down to second during the mixup at third base. Earnshaw up. Ball one, outside. Strike one, called. Ball two, outside. Foul, strike two. Dykes stole home on the fifth pitch. The umpire called Earnshaw out on strikes on the fifth pitch and the steal of home did not score a run. Earnshaw fanned. NO RUNS, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING

CUBS—Taylor up. Taylor flied to Dykes. Bush up. Strike one, foul. Foul, strike two. Bush fanned, swinging at the third one. McMillan up. Strike one, swung. Foul, strike two. Foul. McMillan popped to Bishop. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

PRESS AGENT OF PANTAGES IS ON STAND

WILLIAM JOBELMAN IS RELUCTANT
WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION

THREATENS TO SPOIL PROSECUTION
PLANS BY REFUSING TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—William Jobelman, press agent for Alexander Pantages' Los Angeles theater before the magnate sold his holdings, was a reluctant witness for the prosecution today in the trial of the millionaire showman on a charge of attacking Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer.

Counted as one of the state's strongest witnesses, the press agent threatened to spoil prosecution plans by his refusal to answer questions.

District Attorney Buron Fitts intended to show by questioning that Pantages had told his press agent what to say. Prior to the trial the district attorney announced that Jobelman, after telling one story of what he saw when he heard Miss Pringle scream and ran to the small room where she asserted Pantages attacked her, had changed his mind and in another statement given the district attorney the "correct" version.

Under pressure from Fitts, the publicity man finally said that Pantages "suggested he go to the district attorney with a statement."

He said this was the day after the asserted attack.

Fitts endeavored to bring out that Pantages told the press agent he was to say that he had been in the "conference room" and that he left to go to his publicity office to telephone to a film exchange. He then was to say that he was attracted a few minutes later by a girl's screams and ran back to find Miss Pringle struggling at the door.

Jobelman admitted he was not in the "conference room" the day of the alleged attack and that he had not called a film exchange.

"Did Pantages tell you how long he was in that room with Miss Pringle?" Fitts asked.

"Two or three minutes," Jobelman replied.

"Did you see them go in?"

"No."

"Then you cannot say what time Miss Pringle and Pantages went into the room, or what time they came out?"

"No."

Defense attorney started to cross examine the witness.

"Are you afraid of the district attorney?" was Ford's first question.

"Well," said the publicity man, "I'm perspiring a little."

"Haven't you been afraid of the district attorney or his assistants?"

"Well, once when I had told an untruth."

"Haven't you been threatened by him?"

Jobelman finally answered "No."

Ford brought out that Jobelman had heard screams which he at first believed was a messenger boy "calling" in the hall. He ran from his office and saw Miss Pringle struggling at the door of the mezzanine room.

The publicity man said he ran to close two doors because he feared the girl's screams might start a panic in the showhouse.

FALL IN LAST FIGHT TO GO ON WITH TRIAL

3 PHYSICIANS ASSERT 68-YEAR-
OLD PLAINSMAN HAS BRON-
CHIAL PNEUMONIA

FALL HOPES TRIAL TO PROCEED
MONDAY AND IS CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 11.—Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary, today made a last fight to continue his trial on a bribery charge. His desire delayed justice William Hitz in declaring a mistrial on the testimony of three physicians that the 68-year-old plainsman was suffering from bronchial pneumonia.

Justice Hitz took under advisement the plea of Fall's lawyers for a recess of the trial until Monday, when the former interior secretary hopes to be able to be in court. He is confident of acquittal.

Physicians for the court and Fall's own doctor, H. T. Safford, both reported Fall improved, but Dr. Frank Leech, one of the physicians named by the court to examine the patient, said his right lung still showed a congested condition today.

GILBERT AND BRIDE ROMANCE ENDURES

New York, Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—John Gilbert and Ina Claire, returning on the Berengaria today from their European honeymoon, called the report that their romance was on the rocks "idiotic."

Paris, Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—The French foreign office today officially denied that France, Italy and Japan would attempt to reach a secret agreement on submarines before entering the five-power naval conference.

The statement issued by Quai D'Orsay follows:

"There is no question and no possibility of a Franco-Italian-Japanese accord before the London conference. Undoubtedly the French embassies will discuss the French viewpoint at Rome and Tokio in just the same as they will do at Washington and London before the conference starts. But it is impossible to interpret this in an attempt to reach an accord. France will go to London with open hands."

MAC DONALD IN THREE-DAY VISIT AT NEW YORK

PREMIER WILL CELEBRATE HIS 64TH BIRTHDAY IN THE METROPOLIS

SERIES OF INTERVIEWS, DIN-
NERS AND LUNCHEONS
TO FOLLOW

By JOSEPH GORDON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 11.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald settled down in the "city of his adoption" today for a three-day stay during which he will celebrate his 64th birthday and review the "harvest of results" from his peace mission.

While MacDonald made clear that his official conferences were at an end, a series of interviews, dinners and luncheons will afford him the opportunity to elaborate on his conversations with President Hoover, in case he should desire to do so.

The prime minister and his daughter, Isabel, arrived late yesterday from Washington, coming across the Hudson river from Jersey City on a ferryboat that steamed through a lane of din and saluting sirens. The party went immediately to its headquarters at the Hotel Weylin where MacDonald, although weary, granted an interview.

"I am going away," he said, "convinced that under the more general atmosphere which has thus been created there will be a satisfactory harvest of results. I feel that I have returned to the city of my adoption. I have a family interest in New York now and I feel very proud of it."

A newspaper inquired if MacDonald intended to rest tomorrow and Sunday.

"Rest?" the premier said, smiling. "That is the first time since I landed in America that I have had such a thing suggested to me. I am glad to meet you, sir."

MacDonald said he had made no plans for his birthday celebration tomorrow, but added "that matter is in the hands of my friends."

Last night the prime minister dined privately at the home of Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co.

The MacDonald party will leave on Monday for Toronto, sailing for England from Quebec on October 25.

Western Thriller Stars Wild Horse Universal's thrilling picture "Hoofbeats of Vengeance," starring Rex, King of Wild Horses, will be the feature attraction at the Lyceum Saturday only.

The great popularity of animal productions is said to have been mainly caused by the performances of Rex, who has won thousands of followers by his sensational and out-of-the-ordinary films. His daring exploits and almost human intelligence have focused the public interest on four-footed performers.

In "Hoofbeats of Vengeance," the wild horse has one of his best roles, astounding by his ability to "act" for the camera. One of his dramatic scenes is a terrific fight with another horse, which is said to be a real screen novelty.

Moosejaw, Sask., Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—A huge golden eagle which attempted to carry off school children at play was dead here today but only after Earl Fyfe, playground instructor, and others fought the vicious bird for a half hour with clubs.

The eagle—seven feet four inches from tip to tip of the wings—swooped down on the playgrounds late Thursday and grasped at several of the children with its talons.

Fyfe and several parents of the children rushed to the defense with clubs and felled the bird after a hard fight in which the eagle landed on the ground to better attack the men. The instructors was scratched several times by the eagle's sharp talons.

An Armory for Brainerd

BRAINERD is assured of an armory, something that has been sought for years and which now dawns as a real thing to be completed within the next two years.

Team work did it. A committee composed of Clyde E. Parker, A. G. Trommald and Con O'Brien, backed by all the civic agencies, worked well and achieved success. The cooperation of Adjutant General E. A. Walsh, who is genuinely interested in Brainerd, meant much in the final analysis.

Little Falls, assured of the military camp in Morrison county, waived its priority rights to an armory in favor of Brainerd. And the state of Minnesota as well as Senator C. Rosenmeier of our district are all working to aid Brainerd.

The site will be quickly obtained and the tank corps will be recruited promptly. Every individual, every organization assisting to make possible this addition of the armory to Brainerd is worthy of commendation.

It is just another indication of the fact that public spirit in Brainerd is hitting on every cylinder. There is no end to the things we can get for our city when we unite on a project.

"Can I Get My Gun Back?"

"CAN I get my gun back?" is the plaint of many a letter the Minnesota State Game and Fish Department receives from hunters who have violated the game laws and whose guns have been confiscated by game wardens. Under the law, every gun which is confiscated by a warden is sent to the seizure department, where it is appraised. After the appraisal, the unlucky hunter has an opportunity to recover his gun at the appraised price. Every article which is confiscated, and this includes guns, fishing tackle, furs, traps, etc., must go through the seizure department—even confiscated ducks, pheasants and frog legs are accounted for.

During the winter months a public auction of confiscated sporting articles is held, which is largely attended. Auction sales for confiscated furs are held at various times during the year. At the last gun auction 250 guns and rifles were disposed of to the highest bidder.

THE largest letting of highway jobs in the history of Minnesota will be held October 29, when the State Highway department will open bids on 136.6 miles of concrete paving, to be done in 1930. Although the mileage to be put under contract this month is about 25 miles more than the paving done in 1929, Commissioner Babcock states that several other paving projects for 1930 construction will be advertised and let later in the fall or winter.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has broken away and gone to Virginia, where he befriends Penfield Paradine, who dies and leaves all his possessions to Eddie. Eddie had been in love with Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," but all thought of her is lost when he meets and falls in love with Marian Thorndike. Marian is engaged to Tom Freeman. Freeman and Eddie dislike each other, and Eddie, discouraged, goes to Richmond, where he meets Mike Arno, a former member of the gang, who tries to persuade him to return to New York and Bernice. Eddie refuses and returns to his farm. He goes to dinner at the Thorndike home, and Mr. Thorndike questions him as to his past. Bernice Veressi comes to Eddie's home and informs him she has come to stay. He tells her she cannot, but she throws herself into his arms.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XXXIX.

SHE drew back from him and pressed both her palms to his cheeks; held his face so that he gazed directly into the furnace of her eyes.

When she spoke her voice was molten.

"You're mine, Eddie . . . mine."

With an effort as mighty as the effort of Man arising in spirit, he threw off the cosmic weight of jungle heritage, Eddie Regan, who dreamed not of his symbolic significance grew white around the lips with the summoning of free will and, in one titanic moment, freed himself from the shackles of the flesh. The act, externally was no more than pushing Bernice Veressi away and stepping back himself. But his forehead was wet with sweat.

"That ends it," he declared, his voice tight.

She stood apart from him breathing deeply, her breast rising and subsiding.

"You are killing me," she said, with difficulty.

"You'll have to get your things together and go."

"It's because you're not used to having me here—it is this damned country that makes you so cold." She breathed, like an animal at bay. "There's no room here for love. This house kills it! You are not yourself, Eddie—you have got like this old room—dead! It is not fair—there is no chance for us here! Come with me, darling—back home—where you belong."

The pallor of his lips had now spread to his face.

"No! I belong here and here I stay!"

"Won't you come back?" she pleaded.

"Never!"

She trembled all over pitifully. But her eyes were burnished, dry. The breath came through her nostrils, her mouth, with difficulty.

"Then I stay with you! Yes, I'll stay and bury myself, too. You think I'm only a city girl, eh? You don't know me, Eddie. When I was a little girl I came from the old country, and I know the ways of the ground—the way things grow. Give me a chance, Eddie. I'll plant the wine grapes and tend the vines for you. The meals on the table, I can cook. I've got money—a thousand dollars—I'll put it in your hands and you can buy the horse, the cows, what you need."

His heart turned in her favor with deep sorrow for her. It was as though she was battering herself to death against a stone cliff and he was helpless to stay her.

You are a great girl, Bernice—you must get hold of yourself. You are excited, saying a lot of things you don't mean, but you're not facing facts. Some day you'll run across the right guy and you'll thank me for saving you from big mistakes. Sit down for a minute and calm yourself."

She sank into a chair and looked at him. Unexpectedly, her passion veered.

"Who is your girl—what is she like?"

"No girl has anything to do with this," he told her, trying to be exact. "It's simply a case of us not being mated. You've sold yourself on a wrong idea, that's all. All this love you're trying to give me belongs to some guy even if you haven't met him yet. I can't accept what isn't mine."

"This girl—is it because she keeps holding you off that you want her so much?"

"I won't talk to you about any other girl," he insisted. "This is a matter that concerns only you and me. I hate to hurt you, Bernice, but you've got to get yourself together, you've got to go."

"You mean I got to go now?"

"Now!"

Her face was as white as his own; from somewhere she had regained her gloves and they were twisted in her hands. Suddenly, she smiled.

"You see what a fool I am, Eddie—I ought to be jealous, but I'm not thinking about that angle of it in the least. Sure, I know you might fall for another dame —any fellow might—that's nothing against me or you, not even against the girl. I wipe all this stuff out—what's left is just some thing that was there in the beginning. I'm still crazy about you and I don't know what has become of my pride. It's gone. You say I'm making a big mistake, but it seems to me, Eddie, that you are one in the dark; you are not yourself. The old Eddie that used to be would laugh at you now, trying to be farmer and breaking his heart over some country girl. May be she wears cotton stockings, I don't know. You need me—you don't understand it yet."

"I want you to go, Bernice," he urged her. "I'm not sure at you or anything. You can't stay here any longer."

She looked at the two leather grips in the room.

"All right, Eddie, I'll go. I'll not go back to New York. I'll stay in the little town where I got off the railroad then I'll be near you all the time. When you want me I'll be right there, Eddie."

It seemed unnecessarily harsh to send Bernice away from his house so abruptly, without even giving her a meal, but Eddie was on pins and needles until he could get rid of her.

Any explanation of her presence to Marian would, he was certain, sound hollow. In New York among more sophisticated people the situation might be understood at its true value—but not here. So far as Marian's father was concerned, it would end everything.

And even when he got Bernice out of the house—even then he had to face added complications. If she remained a visitor, as she threatened, in the county seat, her presence would invariably stir wide attention and gossip. A girl of Bernice's type in the old-fashioned community would set all tongues wagging. She was too vivid, too conspicuous to escape notice. She would hang over him with suspended menace. People would learn about her, who she was and where she came from and her infatuation with him. Bit by bit the past would be revealed and scandal would scorch him with leaping flames.

In anguishing nervousness, he realized, that sooner or later, he would have to explain all of this to the Thorndikes. No—they probably wouldn't even let him explain. He faced Bernice desperately.

"Do you want to ruin me?" he demanded.

"You say you care about me, yet you're going to do the one thing that will put me in a wrong light before the whole county."

"But I'm leaving, Eddie," she protested. "I'm not going to stay in your house."

(To be continued tomorrow)

Now he gets half his motor oil free!

Figure it out for yourself. One less carbon and valve job a year means a saving of $11 or $12. And that's just half the average yearly expenditure per car for lubricating oil.

But how can you reduce the number of carbon removal and valve grinding jobs? Thousands have found a way. They have discovered through experience that one oil—Shell Motor Oil—forms very little carbon. . . on test, one-half to one-third less than many otherwise fine lubricants.

And this negligible amount of carbon is soft, fluffy and non-fouling. It does not bake on metal surfaces, but actually blows away with the exhaust gases.

However, with Shell Motor Oil, even more important than the reduction in carbon jobs is the freedom from "frozen" piston rings and pitted valves . . . and the satisfaction which comes from driving a smooth-running and efficient automobile.

Shell Motor Oil is prepared from Nature's richest lubricating crude by the Shell low-temperature refining process. And before it reaches you, it passes 259 tests to certify that every quart possesses the four essentials of correct lubrication: Low Carbon Content, Non-Fouling Carbon, Ideal Body at All Operating Temperatures, and Low Pour Point.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL—And let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide. Courteous salesmen await you at the familiar yellow and red service stations. Convenient everywhere.

To the man who asks for oil by name—we say: "Try Shell for 30 days"

The man who asks for oil by name knows that there is a difference in oils. It won't be difficult for him to notice the quicker pick-up, greater power, and better all-round performance of an automobile with Shell in the crankcase.

Shell 400 "Extra Dry" Gasoline knows exactly what you mean when you step on the starter. Ought to cost more, but it doesn't.

BANDITS SHOOT AND ROB WOMAN OF $50,000 IN JEWELS

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(U.P.)—Bandits shot Mrs. Nellie Perky, wife of a wealthy Key West, Fla., real estate and hotel operator, and robbed her of $50,000 in jewels as she was returning to the city from the Hawthorne race track by automobile last night.

A bullet pierced her jaw. Physicians at the Frances Willard hospital said today she probably would recover. James Lamorte, gambling resort keeper, and Mrs. M. E. Knowles, who were with Mrs. Perky, were held by police as suspected accomplices. Lamorte was driving the coupe in which the trio were riding.

BRITTON EXPLAINS TRAIN-TRUCK HIT

"Was on the Track Before I Knew What Happened," Drayman Who Escaped Injury Said

J. C. Britton, drayman, whose truck was wrecked Wednesday morning when a box car pushed by a switch engine struck it on the crossing of the alley at the rear of Skaug's Drug Store, explained to The Dispatch today that he had driven on the track and was struck before he was conscious of the approach of the train.

Mr. Britton escaped uninjured. The truck was pushed a distance of approximately four feet after the crash. "I had unloaded freight at Skaug's and after loading boxes started south in the alley. As I approached the track I heard someone holler. Before I knew anything I was on the track and the train had struck me," Mr. Britton said.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

October 11, 1904

The assignment of pastors to the churches in the northern Minnesota conference of the M. E. churches has been made public and the list contains the name of Dr. Knowles of this city who has been re-assigned to the Brainerd church.

The debating team held an interesting meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. C. B. Stickney gave a recitation. The subject on debate was "Resolved that Japan has better prospects of winning the present war than Russia." The affirmative was given the decision.

Miss Mabel O'Brien was given a pleasant birthday party last night at her home.

R. R. Wise has decided to call the new hotel which he is building on the corner of Front and Sixth streets "The Brainerd." This is Mr. Wise's first name. He now has a crew of 30 men at work on the building and in a few days will have 20 others at work. There are 20 carloads of material on the road for the new hotel.

The "Miracle Block" is the name of H. Turcotte's new business block being erected on Sixth street. Mr. Turcotte may well be proud of his business block just approaching completion. It is one of the finest buildings in the city in appearance.

Mike Andrews who runs the tenoning machine in the car shops was badly hurt yesterday afternoon while lacing a belt. He was working on a scaffold in the top of the room and using a heavy stick to hold the belt.

NURSE MAKES REPORT

Reviews Work Done in September; 56 Children Had Defects Corrected

During the month of September the city and school nurse, Miss Eula Michael, made a total of 260 visits to homes. These visits included the following: 26, nursing care; 131, instructive calls; 9, communicable disease calls; 11, poor relief calls; 1, truant reported and 82 miscellaneous calls. Eleven patients were accompanied to a doctor. One tuberculosis clinic was held to which nine new patients attended. One meeting was attended during the month and there were 28 office interviews.

School work started September 3 and immediately a rapid inspection was made of the grade children. This inspection was to detect, if possible, any signs of infectious diseases also children having pediculosis, impetigo, scabies or any other skin disease. Comparatively few cases were found and these were excluded.

The eyes of 45 children obviously needing attention and those complaining of headaches, were examined. Twenty-three notices were sent to parents. Three buildings are still to be examined.

The children of the Whittier, Lincoln and Riverside schools have been weighed and notices of the height, weight and normal weight have been sent to the parents. Of the 524 weighed, 133 were 10% or more overweight and 14 were 20% or more overweight.

There were six school children with whooping cough excluded from school and three with scarlet fever. The scarlet fever cases were scattered.

One application was sent to the University hospital and one patient was returned from the Gillette State hospital.

Of 451 children with physical defects cared for during the summer, 34 were for eyes; 7, ears; 341, teeth; 63, nose; 59, throat; 2, thyroid; and 1 skin. Of this number 56 children had more than one defect corrected.

Dr. Myerding from the Minnesota Public Health Association met with a few interested in the work on September 14. The Public Health Association tion sent literature to the nurse's office to be distributed. Weight cards were sent which are used in weighing the children and a splendid case for sanitary drinking cups was also sent. This will be used in the nurse's office in the high school.

BRAINERD MOTHER, BABY ARE JAILED

Held by Lincoln, Neb., Authorities Pending Arrest of Husband

While authorities scoured the county for her husband charged with burglary of a store, Mrs. Etta Hyatt, 20 years old and her small baby, Floyd, of Brainerd were being held in jail at Lincoln, Neb., having been arrested at Plattsmouth when the car she and her baby occupied had been identified as a stolen car.

The Brainerd woman told Lincoln authorities that her husband was driving another car and that she had last seen him when he stopped the car he was driving to assist a man whose car was stuck in the ditch. The two had driven separate cars out of Blockton, Ia., where they had visited her husband's mother, she said.

The Brainerd man is charged with robbing the Rushville hardware store. Authorities asserted that loot from the store was recovered from the car which Mrs. Hyatt was driving. She was apprehended when her car stalled on the streets of Plattsmouth.

INCREASE NOTED IN BRAINERD SCHOOLS

This Year's Attendance Exceeds That of Last Year by 78 Pupils

SCHOOL CALENDAR FIXED

Text Book Committee Plans Supply for New High School

At the close of the first month of school, the number of pupils actually belonging to the Brainerd school system at the close of the first month was 78 larger than at the close of the first month a year ago, and the average daily attendance in all the schools for the first month was greater by 86 than for the month of September 1928, Superintendent of Schools W. C. Cobb reported today.

In the high school department the enrollment for the first month which was 674 pupils, was 66 greater than of last year, and the number of pupils belonging at the end of the month as well as the average daily attendance, were 66 greater than last year.

At the regular meeting of the board on Monday evening, the following calendar was established for the year. The fall term of school will close for the Christmas vacation on December 20 and the schools will reopen on Monday, January 6, 1930.

The spring vacation will begin on Friday evening, April 11 and sessions will resume on Monday, April 21, making the vacation occur during Holy week. The closing date of the schools for the year will be May 30.

The Thanksgiving holiday and the Friday following will be as in former years.

The following tabulations offer information concerning the number of pupils in the various schools of the city including the high school, and also the number of the main subjects pursued in the high school with the number of teachers, classes and number of pupils in each subject. The subjects are classified as English 1, 2, 3, and 4, natural science which includes physics, chemistry, biology, general science; mathematics, elementary algebra, higher algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, social science which includes political economy, sociology, civics, ancient history, modern history and American history; commercial which embraces bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, Junior business training, advance business training, commercial law, industrial, manual training and mechanical drawing.

From this tabulation it will be readily observed that in the high school courses the study of English includes the largest number of pupils as it is a required subject in all classes. The natural sciences come next, which in one branch or another includes nearly all the pupils. The commercial subject comes next in order in point of numbers, followed by the social sciences and mathematics which are almost equal in point of numbers.

Last week the inspector of industrial education for the State of Minnesota spent a half day in the manual training department inspecting that department and offering suggestions concerning the work for the new high school building along industrial lines.

MAY PLACE BRAINERD POLICE OFFICERS ON CIVIL SERVICE BASIS

The present city council may establish a precedent in Brainerd by placing members of the city police department on a civil service meritorious basis.

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton outlined in brief at the last meeting of the council an ordinance he drafted for such a purpose which the council may act upon some time this winter.

Passage of such an ordinance would tend to do away with changes in the department at each change in politics. The police officers would be obliged to pass civil service tests to qualify for positions.

SAVE MONEY

Not many of the hundreds of thousands who have purchased the Pontiac Big Six selected it simply because it is so inexpensive to own. Most of them bought it because they were attracted by its big car performance, its big car style, its big car safety and riding ease. But it is a fact, nevertheless, that with a Pontiac Big Six you actually save money. You save—

When you buy

The Pontiac Big Six costs less to buy—not because it is the lowest-priced car you can get—but because it is the lowest-priced car ever produced which offers so many advantages.

Try to find similar advantages in another car—and you will find that the car which offers them costs hundreds of dollars more to buy than Pontiac.

When you drive

You save in operation and maintenance with a Pontiac Big Six. During 1928, a large public utilities company operated 996 automobiles.

of 33 different makes. According to its figures, its Pontiacs cost one cent less per mile to operate than any other low-priced six.

When you trade it in

You save with a Pontiac when you are ready for a new car. The demand for used Pontiacs has always exceeded the available supply. And that means that you save on your Pontiac Six even on the day you trade it in. A car which combines such amazing economy with all of Pontiac's additional desirable qualities must command your attention. Come in to see and drive the Pontiac Big Six.

Boarding Home Care Provided for Child in Lieu of Commitment to Institution

The report of Miss Rebecca Cassell, secretary of the County Child Welfare Board, for the month of September follows:

A child who has been at Phalen hospital for several months was returned to his home.

Arrangements were made and admission secured to the University hospital for one mother.

The School for the Deaf opened on October 1 and two girls who have been attending for some time were then returned.

Boarding home care was provided for one child in lieu of commitment to an institution and arrangements are being completed for three more.

Adoption proceedings pending for some time past were also completed this month.

Nerve Saved Her

Fifteen-year-old Arveta Rogner, the country's youngest parachute jumper, who in a recent exhibition at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, leaped from a plane 2,200 feet in the air and fell 1,000 feet before her parachute could be opened. The girl's pluck finally saved her, for she disentangled her foot from the pulcrow and made a safe landing. Her mother, who was in the horrified crowd who watched her dizzy descent through space, fainted.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep yourself free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.
